Product Overview

The ePhone from Extant Aerospace sets a new standard in cabin communications with a sleek, ultra-modern, high performance cordless phone that caters to those with the most discriminating tastes. Its cutting edge communications capabilities and innovative features enable you to do so much more than just make a phone call.

The Extant Aerospace JetPhone is a rugged and feature-rich handset designed for general aviation and air transport applications. The device is available in both 2-Wire and 4-Wire models. The 2-Wire version has a standard "Tip and Ring" telephone circuit permitting connection to CTU systems or direct transceiver connections.

The Extant Aerospace Sigma-7 retractor reel handset is similar to current aeronautical handsets in appearance and form factor but is much simpler and more conventional in its use. No external power is required other than a telephone circuit connection.

The Extant Aerospace Sigma-7 Backlit (BL) retractor-reel handset is similar to traditional aeronautical handsets in form factor and appearance, but is much simpler and more conventional in its use. The Sigma-7 BL offers features commonly found in office style multi-function handsets.
